PURIFIED PROPOLIS

plants. Propolis has a strong antimicrobial power. The ancients had already understood it and they used Propolis for several and various aims: preservative, disinfectant and anaesthetic. For over 25 years, strict analytical controls made by ESI laboratories guarantee a pure and effective Propolis. It is extracted under the most absolute respect of nature, so as to offer only the best of its components. Wax fractions are thus eliminated. On the other hand, the noble part of Propolis, such as bioflavonoids, galangine, pinocembrine, etc. is extrapolated to facilitate its salutary action. ESI has created a 6-product range with different versions of Propolis in order to meet special requirements.
